THOUSANDS OF U. S. TROOPS SURGE INTO NORTH KOREA AGAINST STIFF RESISTANCE IN DRIVE ON PYONGYANG

Four Allied Divisions Spearhead All-Out Offensive North Of 38th Parallel to Enforce New Ultimatum by General MacArthur Calling on Pyongyang Regime "for Last Time" to Surrender

By Howard Handelman
Far Eastern Director, INS

TOKYO, Oct. 9.—(INS)—Thousands of American troops surged a half mile into North Korea against stiff resistance today in a drive on the Red capital of Pyongyang, as South Korean forces entered the enemy's big eastern port of Wonsan.

Four allied divisions spearheaded an all-out offensive north of the 38th parallel to enforce a new ultimatum by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, calling on the Pyongyang regime "for the last time" to surrender "forthwith."

At least 40,000 United Nations troops, supported by tanks, planes and mobile guns, rolled into the enemy's homeland on both sides and in the middle of the Korean peninsula.

On the west flank, American troops stepped onto enemy soil for the first time when the whole mechanized U. S. First Cavalry Division swarmed across the parallel above Kaesong shortly after dawn Monday in the face of heavy opposition.

On North Korea's east coast, shock troops of the ROK (Republic of Korea) Third Division stormed into Wonsan, a major hub of rail and sea traffic lanes leading to Manchuria and Siberia.

Thirty-two miles below Wonsan and 40 miles inland from the east coast, the ROK Capital Division captured Hoeyang.

Closer to the middle of the Peninsula, ROK Eighth Division forces broke into the road center of Hwachon, seven miles above the parallel, and engaged a Red Division in street fighting there.

U. S. Fifth Air Force flyers were the first to spot the South Korean troops entering Wonsan, a city of 80,000 residents lying 78 air miles due north of the 38th parallel.

The ROK Third Division had

FIRE PREVENTION IS ALWAYS NEEDED

Chief Clifford Hagerman Calls Attention to Fire Prevention Week

LOSSES HERE ARE LOW

Human carelessness is sending fire losses throughout the nation up to a new all-time high, said Bristol fire chief Clifford Hagerman, as he announced the opening of Fire Prevention week, which runs from Oct. 8 to 14.

According to Chief Hagerman, fire losses in the first six months of the year totaled $367,117,000, more than half of the previous 12-month peak of $711,114,000, reported in 1948.

Fires are taking 30 lives each day and 60 persons are being burned and disfigured daily by fire, Chief Hagerman said.

The greatest fire hazard, the chief said, is careless smoking, and the largest loss of life is due to smoking in bed. Smoking and matches start about 91,000 fires yearly, the chief said, and another 20,800 fires are started by children playing with matches.

Some of the other principal causes of fires reported by Chief Hagerman are misuse of electricity, 70,200 fires yearly; inflammable liquids, such as cleaning fluids, 41,800 fires; sparks on roofs, 23,500, and defective heating and chimney equipment, 75,300 fires.

The National Fire Protection Association, sponsors of Fire Prevention week, says that 90 per cent of these fires can be eliminated through the application of common sense.

The Association reports that industrial fires have increased 68 per cent in the last ten years. Some of the principal causes of industrial fire losses, are carelessness, lack of material waste containers, lack of proper fire extinguishers, and lack of adequate fire doors.

The $2,000,000 a day which fire consumes, damages or destroys 749 homes a day, 294 stores, 31 factories, 13 theaters, 8 churches, 7 schools and 3 hospitals.

"While it is true," said Chief Hagerman, "that fire losses in Bristol are low, we can never relax in our safeguard against fire."

$50,000 SUIT

QUAKERTOWN, Oct. 9.—A claim for $50,000 in damages was brought by Paul Danforth, Phila., against Willard G. Hager, Quakertown, in the Montgomery County Court at Norristown, Friday. ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan
(Distributed by International News Service)

Rep. Chatham didn't get much attention with his story that he has seen Russian tanks three feet high. . . . This week we're kind of busy with Yankee hits three bases long.

But if the Russians have tanks three feet high we would like to see the comrades two feet high who sit in them.

It may be that the tanks are robots, controlled from Moscow. . . . Everything else Russian is.

What Rep. Chatham may have seen is Russian eight foot tanks going underground. . . . That would be typically Communist.

He'll have to give us another buzz on it after we get the World Series out of the way and are ready for another inning of the world situation.

Happy Chandler and player and owner representatives meet tomorrow to discuss how to whack up the TV takes from the Series. . . . That ought to be on TV too.

You get a ball player emoting about his cut and you get real acting.

BATTLE-OF-THE-FLAG DAY

A grandiose scheme to fly the United Nations flag over every American school and public building on October 24—which Mrs. Roosevelt, among others, thinks would be just ducky—has encountered rough going. Patriotic organizations say this is intended as an entering wedge leading to abandonment of United States sovereignty and submission to a world government.

"I can only think of it as insanity or boondoggling," Maj. Gen. Amos A. Fries, co-founder of the United States Flag Association and one of the group that urged President Coolidge to proclaim June 14 Flag Day, asserts.

General Fries joins the American Flag Committee, Philadelphia, in its charge that "the forces of world government are operating behind the UN flag campaign to weaken the status of Old Glory and prepare us for ultimate acceptance of world federal government."

The "fly-the-UN-flag" drive is being master-minded by Milburn Lincoln Wilson, head of the Agriculture Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. He is directing a campaign to have farm women and 4-H Club girls become modern day Betsy Rosses by sewing UN flags to fly over their school houses or community buildings.

Wilson was an adviser to the Russian government in 1929, according to "Who's Who in America." According to this reference book, he served the Russians as a "consultant on large scale wheat farming." Later he worked under Henry Wallace in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, later rising to Undersecretary of Agriculture.

TO MAKE MORE STEEL

It is good news that the steel industry plans to expand its capacity by nearly 10 per cent during the next two years. With armament spending being stepped up, it is obvious that the demand for steel will increase.

On the basis of data collected by the American Iron and Steel Institute, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer estimates that annual capacity should reach 109,963,000 tons by December 31, 1952. On July 1 this year annual capacity was rated at 100,563,000 tons, an all-time high.

The greatest output recorded during World War II—the year was 1944—was 16,000,000 tons, less than the expected 1952 total. The most steel ever used for military purposes in a single war year—also 1944—was 53,000,000 tons, or less than half of the prospective capacity to be reached in 1952.

The statistics cited by Secretary Sawyer also reflect the fact that the industry has been expanding its capacity since World War II ended. That is the best reason for feeling confident that the plants now projected will materialize.

There are many hidden taxes, but it is no longer possible for the taxpayer to hide from them.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol May 29, 1902. The Gazette, a weekly news paper published at Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

NEWPORTVILLE — Howard Thornton, assistant postmaster of Bristol, passed through this place on his up-to-date wheel on Sunday last.

Postmaster, Minister, of Bristol, is ever alert to gain for his office every improvement and convenience for the benefit of the patrons. The latest device for expediting business in the local office which he is after is an electrical cancelling machine.

The semi-annual registration by Assessor Watt, shows that in the second ward there are 501 children between the ages of six and 21 years and nearly 600 voters. From December 1 till May 1 there were 26 births and 11 deaths.

While coming through the canal lock from the basin with a boat on Monday, Thomas Scott caught an immense catfish that was 18 inches in length and measured four inches between the eyes and weighed 4½ pounds.

Mrs. Ellen Wright, widow of Jonathan S. Wright, died at her home on Radcliffe street last Saturday afternoon. The deceased was born in Bristol 69 years ago.

Edward Stevens, a son of the Rev. Theodore Stevens, pastor of the M. E. Church, will graduate next month as a civil engineer from Lehigh University. He has been tendered and has accepted a position with the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co.

E. E. Trimble, the general proprietor of the "Famous Rock" restaurant on Bath street, is introducing a new drink called California Fruit Juice, which is very palatable.

The Gazette has in its possession volume one of the Bucks County American published in Bristol in 1854 by William Bache. . . . Mr. Bache was a descendant of Benjamin Franklin.

A regular meeting of the public school board was held on last Thursday evening to wind up the business for the fiscal year. The directors present were: John K. Wildman, E. H. Foster, M. D. Harrison, H. S. Rue, W. H. Hall, W. Joyce, M. McGinley, Doron Green.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hay entertained their friends on last Thursday evening at ping pong. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Pemberton Minister, Mr. and Mrs. E. Stanton Burk, of Ridley Park; Mr. and Mrs. George Ardrey, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hall, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Young, Miss Ashby, of Burlington; Mrs. Comee, Mr. Maplhas Ardrey, Mrs. Hay and daughter, Mrs. B. C. Foster, Mr. E. Stanton Burk won the gentlemen's prize. Mrs. Comee won the lady's prize.

A. P. Yentler, of Bristol, has started in the business of enameling leather on the Morwitz farm at Edgely.

LANGHORNE — Samuel N. Garren, superintendent of the Langhorne Brick Yards, has manufactured this season over 1,000,000 brick.

The graduating class of the Foulke & Long Institute will consist of eight bright young girls. There are about 60 pupils in the institute.

Over 170 young cedar trees have been dug up from the farm of Joseph Hibbs, near Glen Lake, and hauled to Ogontz, to be planted on the estate of P. A. B. Widener.

EMILIE — Three fine new bugles may now be seen spinning through our village on Sundays, the proud possessors being George Hibbs, Frances Paul and Benjamin Paul.

Officer Tice, of the Bristol police force has, this week, been circulating among the residents the annual notice to property owners and tenants. . . . "It shall be the duty of the occupant of every house within the limits of this borough to cleanse the cellars thereof of all dirt, vegetable and impure matter calculated to engender disease, and to cause them to be thoroughly white-washed with fresh lime, at least once a year."

One does not like to contemplate the national loss that would mean. . . . Besides unearthing some of the worst duplications and overlapping in the governmental machine, the adopted part of the report will save annually more than $1,500,000. This is equal to the cost of 1,000 medium tanks, 1,000 jet fighter planes, 1,000 anti-aircraft guns, 100 heavy bombers and 50 modern submarines. But, from $2,000,000,000 to $2,500,000,000 more can be saved through the adoption of the rest of the report. In addition, governmental efficiency would be vastly increased and the whole character of Government service lifted. No intelligent person questions the soundness of these recommendations. It seems bordering on national insanity that they should languish.

Among them are the recommendations for a united medical administration which involves coordination of the five big competing Federal hospital systems. These not only compete with each other but with the voluntary hospitals for scarce doctors, nurses and technicians. Another would end the mad competition between the Army Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation. The cost of this competition is shocking and there never was a day when the nation could afford the 52 billions' worth of plans which these two agencies have dreamed up between them without any real check on need or cost. And then there are the proposals for streamlining the incredibly swollen and confused Agricultural Department, the creaky, cumbersome and extravagant Veterans Administration, which ineffectually wastes $70,000,000 a year, and the Post Office Department, which it proposes to take out of politics and put on a self-sustaining basis, thus ending the annual $500,000,000 deficit. These are a few of the things that remain to be done. The way to get them done is to call the attention of the candidates for Senate and House running in this election and ask them to commit themselves. Some of them will want to do so. All of them should. It is hard to see why any should hold back.

Yet a lot of them do. Last summer there were no less than fifteen separate and powerful organizations lobbying against sections of the report. All of them favored it as a whole but just wanted to exempt the agency or bureau with which they had relations or from which they received some form of patronage, subsidy or benefit. It is clearly to the interest of all of us that the balance of the Hoover report be adopted. One thing is certain—if it fails, the last chance to regain control of our uncoordinated and unmanageable governmental machine will have been lost. Every Communist in the country will rejoice.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Last Chance

Washington, Oct. 9. The Korean war, besides revealing our tragic military weakness, has forced a general realization of the national danger with which we are menaced. Combined, these have started us upon defense expenditures so huge as to dwarf everything else. In consequence, we face immense deficits, terrific taxation and greatly enhanced debt.

Somehow or other we have got to swing these things. It seems impossible we should bog down. Yet, it is not impossible. The combination of politics, inertia, stupidity and indifference might bring that about. For, it is certainly true we cannot bear the burdens of the world on one shoulder and the burdens of unchecked waste on the other. That is why it is vital not to let the Soviet menace and the urgency to arm obscure the necessity for putting our domestic affairs in order while we can, nor prevent grasp of the great basic fact that we cannot be militarily strong and financially feeble at the same time.

If the foundations of our Government are not kept solid and its fiscal structure unravaged by decay and inefficiency, there can be no real strength in us to fight for ourselves or for others. Realizing this far better than we, the Communists here for the past eighteen years have concentrated upon pushing us toward economic chaos. Every person or policy tending in that direction receives their enthusiastic support. It is astounding this has not been more generally appreciated. It can be proved in a hundred ways. If clearly understood by the people, it would have a magical effect upon the national health of the United States—and the world.

For one thing, an aroused public sentiment would sweep aside the obstacles in the way of the Hoover Commission report on reorganization of the executive department and insure swift enactment at the next Session of Congress of the fifty per cent of its recommendations upon which no action has been taken. Few finer things could happen to us as a nation. For, this report goes in exactly the opposite direction to economic chaos. Considering the opposition, it is a remarkable achievement that half of the commission's recommendations has been adopted. Nevertheless, it is deeply unfortunate that nearly fifty per cent has been sidetracked. Unless the recommendations therein contained are adopted by the incoming Congress, they will die.

U. S. Troops Surge Into North Korea

pushed 105 road miles northwest along the slanting east coast from its border jumpoff point to reach Wonsan.

A front dispatch received at 5:05 p. m. Monday (3:05 a. m. EST) quoted a South Korean army spokesman as confirming the American flyers' report.

The spokesman said ROK Third Division spearheads had enveloped Wonsan's inland flank, then rammed into the seaport from the west as the city's Red defenders fled northward.

The dispatch said many villages were in flames as a result of heavy American air strikes against Red forces in the Wonsan area.

An estimated 100,000 UN troops were held in reserve south of Korea's penetrated "iron curtain", awaiting the command to follow the five divisions already across the artificial boundary.

mopping up enemy troops and crushing Red guerrilla raids in various parts of South Korea.

In a communique issued at 3:20 Monday afternoon (1:20 a. m. Monday EST), Gen. MacArthur announced the capture of an additional 4,531 Red prisoners in the 24 hours up to midnight Sunday. This, he said, raised the total of North Korean troops in Allied prisoner stockades to more than 55,000.

The First Cavalry Division, renowned for its granite defense of vital Taegu in the dark days of the Korean war, was given the honor of being the first American ground unit to cross the 38th parallel onto the enemy's home territory.

It struck in two columns above the South Korean border town of Kaesong on the main rail-highway route to Pyongyang, 80 miles to the northwest.

Just behind the First Cavalry forces, the U. S. 24th Infantry Division, the ROK First Division and a British Commonwealth Brigade were poised along the parallel to exploit the expected breakthrough on the road to Pyongyang.

"It's the big push," said a First Corps spokesman as two mechanized regiments of the First Cavalry opened the twin-pronged drive across the 38th.

International News Service war correspondents Lee Ferrero and Bernard Kaplan reported from the front that the Americans met unexpectedly strong resistance as they smashed over the border.

But the initial American onslaught drove 700 yards north of the parallel in the face of severe enemy artillery, mortar, machine gun and small arms fire coming from bunkers and trenches.

Gen. MacArthur's briefing officer said late Monday that the UN forces driving into the enemy's heartland encountered ever-stiffening resistance as they ran into North Korean army units still under control of the Red high command.

Opposing the American drive toward Pyongyang in the sector above Kaesong, the headquarters spokesman said, was the North Korean 15th Division which had withdrawn from Seoul after offering a fierce defense of the South Korean capital.

This enemy unit, the officer added, is being directed by its divisional headquarters which had temporarily lost contact with its fighting components after the Red defeat at Seoul.

World Affairs Under Discussion Before Club

NEWTOWN, Oct. 9 — About 50 members of Newtown Needlework Club were present Wednesday at the first fall meeting to hear Dr. Walter H. Mohr, George School, speak on "Present Day World Affairs."

Dr. Mohr, instructor of history at George School, for the past 10 years has been affiliated with Pennsylvania State College during the summer, and for the past recent months has been consultant to the Economic Cooperation Administration in Washington, D. C., working with Paul Hoffman.

Dr. Mohr said: "Our achievement of a federation of free nations is a wonderful thing, and if the E. C. A. fails, we can never expect to try this wonderful experiment again. The Marshall Plan has stepped up production, and the unity of the United Nations has kept Russia off balance. There are three things we can do: appease Russia; have war with Russia; or keep her off balance. And here the Marshall Plan has its valuable place, for it puts in our hands the means of stabilizing the world."

This was a covered dish luncheon. The business meeting which followed was conducted by Mrs. Leroy Nixon, new president. Three resignations were reported, Mrs. B. Willis Starr, Mrs. William Fretz, and Mrs. John VanBoren; and two members were re-instated, Mrs. H. Griffin Miller and Mrs. Henry Herbert.

It was reported a luncheon cloth has been purchased for use at the club teas. A graduation award of $10 was set up for the outstanding pupil at Council Rock high school in the business administration course. The senior club will sponsor, with the junior Century, the Girl Scout program for two years. Two new troops are being organized in Newtown, an intermediate and a Brownie troop, and $10 was voted for each troop to aid in organization; also new uniforms and new flag staffs and belts will be needed, the expense of which will be born jointly by the two clubs. Five dollars was voted to the Needlework Guild. Mrs. William S. Kenderdine volunteered to

2ND HALF RALLY DEFEATS BENSALEM BY SCORE 32 TO 13

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Oct. 9.—Paced by "Eddie" Arrivello and "Jim" Henson, the Pennsylvania School for Deaf eleven rallied in the second half to score 26 points and rout the Bensalem Township team, 32-13, on the Street Road field.

Bensalem had a 7-6 lead at the end of the first half but with Henson pounding the Owls' line to shreds and Arrivello giving the Owls a merry chase around the ends, the Deaf school rolled up their big margin of victory.

PSD had a total of 23 first downs while holding Coach Marion Van Horn's team to five. At the start of the fourth quarter after Bensalem cut the PSD lead to 18-13, the visitors carried the ball a total of 97 yards and a touchdown in eight plays, all through the line.

A rundown of the plays in that torrid drive went like this: Arrivello made 12 yards around end, Henson kicked the line for 14 yards and a first on the 29. Bensalem was penalized five yards. Henson hit tackle for a first on the 41. Parrish went through the center of the line to bring the ball into Bensalem's territory on the 49. Henson carried the ball twice through the line, or first downs on the 31 and 20. Parrish made 18 yards on a line buck, resting the ball on the two from where Henson went over. Finding the line easy, Henson also hit it for the extra point.

PSD scored early in the tilt when it recovered the short kickoff. It made three first downs and then Heider tossed a pass to Parrish who was downed on the two. Heider took it over.

Bensalem's aerial attack came to life late in the quarter and soon the Cornwells Heights team was in front, 7-6. The drive started on the 41. Two PSD penalties gave Bensalem a first down. Bob Whitfield threw a pass to Dick Gloyd for a first on the 16. Whitfield then whipped another aerial to Al Bader who caught it in the end zone. A pass, Bader to John Mellor, was successful for the extra point.

Noy intercepted a Bensalem pass at the start of the third period and raced from the 35 to mid-field. On the first play, Arrivello made a long sweep around his left end and before the Bensalem secondary could get to him, he was over the goal line. In the same quarter, PSD counted again. The march began on the 41. Henson and Parrish on two plays carried the ball to the Bensalem 45. After Arrivello picked up three, Henson went through his right side for a first on the 28. Henson then hauled the ball to the 14. Arrivello and Heider made it a first down with six inches to go for a touchdown. Parrish took the ball over to make the count, 18-7.

Bensalem got back into the game with a TD. Bader took the kickoff from his 25 to the 40. He then rifled a pass to Mellor for a first on PSD's 23. PSD drew a 15-yard penalty but Bader lost 7 on the next play. A long pass, Bob Whitfield to Johnny Bowman, was completed for a touchdown. Whitfield was on the 30-yard line when he tossed the pass. The try for the conversion failed.

PSD's smashing line-bucking drive followed and late in the final session, Arrivello carried the ball on end runs which netted him gains of 11 and 28 yards and a touchdown. Dancy hit the line for the extra point to make the final count: PSD, 32; Bensalem, 13.

WORLD SERIES NOW HAS BEEN INTERRED

By Lawton Carver
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(INS)—The 1950 World Series is interred—along with the shattered hopes of the Philadelphia Phizz Kids—leaving the abiding thought that a reasonably good ball club might have beaten the New York Yankees.

The Whizz Kids were just an ordinary ball club psycho-analyzed into delusions of grandeur by Manager Eddie Sawyer, the biology professor and Ph. D.

As it turned out the Phillies had better pitching than anybody could foresee. Scores of 1 to 0, 2 to 1 in 10 innings, 3 to 2 and 5 to 2 left nothing, or little to be desired as the Phillies went down and out in four straight.

They got bad pitching in only the last game, which should have been a 5-to-0 victory, instead of 5 to 2, for the Yankees. However, the Phillies got the biggest break of that game when Gene Woodling dropped a fly ball to let in two runs and it still did not do them any good.

It kept them from being shut out, but it did not prolong the Series. The Yanks got some breaks in the earlier games and made them stand up for victories. That is the kind of ball club the Yanks are, whether you like them or not.

The job that Casey Stengel did in getting the Yankees into the Series and to their second straight world championship was one of the all-time great feats in baseball history.

He duplicated his performance of 1949 and did it this time without the services of Joe Page, who was virtually useless during the past season.

Not only did Page fold up, but Joe DiMaggio spent most of the season in the worst slump of his career. Tommy Henrich wound up benched with a leg injury and a non-participant in the World Series. Bob Porterfield's pitching was knocked out by a line drive that broke his jaw and Johnny Mize spent part of the summer in Kansas City.

Stengel, the men this department once said would be a flop when he was appointed Yankee manager, thus won his second straight pennant with a ball club that he again had to hold together from day to day.

That same ball club then swept four straight in the World Series, and throughout the four games was behind only once and then for only a half inning.

At no time during the Series did you ever have the feeling that the Yankees would blow it. In fact, you had the notion throughout that they would not even lose a single game. Even in those tough and taut early games you expected a Yankee hit or a Whizz Kid error to win for the Yanks.

That's about the way it went. The Yankees were something less than terrific, but they had everything they needed to beat the ball club they had to contend with at any given moment.

That, I think, is the mark of a true champion. There can be no doubt as to whether the better team won. The Whizz Kids simply didn't have it. Another year—maybe. The fact that I picked the Yanks in four or five at the most has nothing to do with it.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA

Bensalem Township

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Oct. 9.—Parents of the first grade classes of the Cornwells Elementary School met with the teachers on Monday, October 2nd, to discuss ways in which the home might prepare the child for school and to become acquainted with certain aspects of the school program in the primary grades.

Mrs. Ann Munch, Miss Ruth Bowers, and Mrs. Ruth Morris, first grade teachers, were introduced to the parent group by Mrs. Elsie Duthorn, elementary supervisor for the Bensalem Township School District.

Mrs. Munch explained that parents can help their children to fit into school life happily if they show sincere interest in the things they bring home. Reading stories, singing songs, learning nursery rhymes together, taking walks, and observing things in the child's immediate environment were specific recommendations given parents in helping their children develop readiness for a successful first year in school. Mrs. Morris explained why homework is very seldom given in the primary grades and furthered the discussion on ways in which parents can guide the growth of their children at home.

Miss Ruth Bowers emphasized the importance of safeguarding the child's health. The need for ten to twelve hours of rest every night for children attending the early grades, time for eating a warm and nourishing lunch program, and symptoms indicating that a child is not in condition to be in school, were included in Miss Bower's presentation.

"Helping Your Child Get a Successful Start at School," a leaflet prepared by a committee of Bucks County Teachers for parents of beginners, was provided those attending the meeting. Parents who wished to further their study of the six-year-old, were provided with a copy of "Early Childhood Needs," a bulletin prepared by the State Department of Public Instruction in co-operation with the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Parents attending the session included: Mrs. W. H. Chapman, Mrs. Ernest Belmont, Mrs. Thelma Sloan, Mrs. Doris Jackson, Mrs. Florence Conn, Mrs. Mary Githens, Mrs. J. Kirschner, Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. Gladhill, Mrs. Pone, Mrs. Jack Tono, Mrs. Walter May, and Mrs. Helen Hoff.

Mrs. Alva Julliff, fifth grade teacher, has been absent from her classes for the past two weeks.

She is recovering from an accident which caused a bone in her foot to be broken. Mrs. Elmer VanSant is serving as substitute.

Miss Ruth Bennett, school nurse, has been confined to her home for the past week with pneumonia. She expects to return to her office within the next ten days. Mrs. Louis Ashton, formerly of the Bensalem staff, is substituting for Miss Bennett.

A group of Bensalem elementary teachers recently enjoyed a dinner theater party. Those attending the affair included: Mrs. Iona Stump and Mrs. Mary Watson, Andalusia; Miss Isabelle McCoy, Treviso; Miss Ruth Bennett, Mrs. Arlene Way, Cornwells; and Mrs. Elsie Duthorn.

Niagara Trip Follows The Mullen-Holzworth Wedding

NEWTOWN, Oct. 9—The rectory of St. Andrew's R. C. Church was the setting for a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon when Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Holzworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holzworth, 209 Court street, became the bride of Mr. Bernard Francis Mullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mullen, Bensalem township. The Rev. Daniel J. Daly performed the double ring ceremony at three o'clock.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white nylon marquisette, with illusion neckline, the full, gathered skirt ending in a train. Tiers of nylon and lace ruffles adorned the skirt. The bodice was made on long lines, and long sleeves came to points over the hands. A fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums with a white orchid center.

Miss Margaret Holzworth, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore gold satin, fashioned with illusion neckline, full gathered skirt with apron effect; gold satin bandeau trimmed with seed pearls, and carried a bouquet of mixed chrysanthemums. Miss Dorothy Mae Holzworth, Hulmeville, a cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid, was gowned in blue satin with illusion neckline, made with full skirt with apron effect, and wore a blue satin bandeau trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of mixed chrysanthemums.

Mr. Charles Mullen, Newportville Heights, was best man for his brother; and Mr. Charles Holzworth, brother of the bride, acted as usher.

Mrs. Charles Holzworth, mother of the bride, chose a blue taffeta gown, with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of pink chrysanthemums. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Charles Mullen, wore green crepe with matching accessories, and a pink chrysanthemum corsage.

A reception was held at Glorato Farms, Warrington, after which the young couple left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y. They will be at home after October 15th at their new home in Newportville Heights.

The bride is a graduate of Council Rock high school and the bridegroom is an alumnus of Bensalem township high school.

Heavenly Father, at the closing of the Feast of Tabernacles we offer thanks unto Thee for the strength and religious fervor that this season brought to us. We implore Thee O Father, may the spirit of these holy days abide within our hearts during the coming days. Teach us how to draw near to Thee by the three-fold pathway; truth, beauty of holiness, and sincerity. Amen.

Bristolians Wed In Church Ceremony were worn, and her cascade bouquet was of mixed blossoms.

Mr. Francis Costantini was best man for his brother.

A small reception, for relatives and friends of the couple, followed at the Bracken Post home, after which the newlyweds left for two weeks motor trip to Florida. Mrs. Costantini was attired for the trip in a wine toned suit, white coat, black velvet accessories; and wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The two will reside at 313 Dorrance street, where the bride, a graduate of Marinello School of Beauty Culture, Phila., operates a beauty parlor. Her husband, a Bristol high school graduate, served in the U. S. Army for two years during World War II.

Mrs. Accardi, the bride's mother, chose for the ceremony, a wine tone dress and black accessories; while Mrs. Costantini, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a black dress and accessories. Both wore lavender orchids.

The bride presented her attendant with a sterling silver bracelet, set with rhinestones; and to his best man, Mr. Costantini gave a lighter.

which are not zoned, and pointed out the increase of population and building of highways which are progressive forces and have much effect on the present land values and sites. He mentioned how Montclair, N. J., which had zoning, became a beautiful place and East Orange, which didn't grow into a "hodgepodge."

Mr. Duval gave a general picture and explained methods of organization and long-range planning.

Mr. Sanderson discussed the building of new roads, including super-highways, and the effects they have on a community. Mr.

Oberhuber discussed some of the technical phases.

Charles J. Happ was chosen the delegate to the National Convention in Miami Beach, Florida, Nov. 12 to 17.

Following the talks by the four panel members, there was a round-table conference with Mrs. Martha S. Woolley taking part. Bergen Herod served as the panel chairman.

ST. ANN'S OPENS SEASON HERE WITH WIN OVER ROCKNE

St. Ann's A. A. opened its home season Saturday night on the high school field with an 18-0 win over Rockne A. A. in a Northeast Conference tilt. Nick Spadaccini, former Rider College star, scored the three St. Ann's touchdowns.

A short ceremony opened the season with the cadet corps of the Chester W. Terhoun Post, V. F. W., and Robert W. Bracken Post, American Legion, doing the parading and drilling.

Burgess L. J. Hetherington and John Dougherty, president of the school board, gave brief talks over the public address system. Both Dougherty and Burgess Hetherington urged support of Bristol sports, both independent and scholastic.

Dougherty stressed the need of support to keep Bristol ranking high in sports and put it in the position it once had in comparison with other eastern teams.

Burgess Hetherington stated that the opening of the season on the high school field constituted another milestone in the advancement of independent football and by continuing to stick together, bigger and better sports will be promoted and give the youths a better chance to reaching the heights of sports.

He praised the officials of the St. Ann's organization and its membership for their accomplishments in the field of sports and asked the fans to consider the cost of financing the sports and give them the support that is needed.

Leon Cialella, president of St. Ann's, introduced the speakers.

The Rockne team could not penetrate the St. Ann's forward wall and most of its gains were the result of long passes being thrown by Frank Mitchell, former Northeast Catholic High star. The receiver on most of the aerials was Joe DiGiovanni. The only Rockne scoring threats were the result of completed passes.

St. Ann's made 11 first downs in the tilt with Rockne getting five. The "Saints" scored in the first, third, and final quarters.

It was Nick Spadaccini and Stan Lelinski who racked up the most yardage for the Bristol team and set up the trio of scores. Spadaccini showed plenty of speed and power in driving at the Rockne line and running the ends. Marvin Collins did some nice kicking for the winners.

The initial St. Ann's score came after a march of 62 yards. DeBono had punted to the Bristol team's 38. Lelinski on a reverse made eight yards. Elmer on a quarter-back sneak made a first on the 49. Joe Singer skirted wide around end for eight and Spadaccini made it a first down on Rockne's 39. On a pitch-out, Lelinski was good for six yards with Singer following with two more. Spadaccini hauled the ball around the left side with another first down on the 20. On two plays, Spadaccini moved the pigskin to the nine-yard line. Lelinski carried the ball on three successive plays and was stopped inches away from the goal line. Spadaccini took it over and missed the kick for the extra point.

Three completed passes by Rockne put it on the 10-yard line of the Saints late in the second quarter but Howard Keys recovered a fumble to break up the attack.

Jack Lane intercepted a pass in the third quarter and ran from the 29 to the 18. Spadaccini picked up 15 yards on a line play to put the ball on the three from where he crossed the goal line. Craig's try for the extra point failed.

An intercepted pass by Tom Profy paved the way for the third score in the last session. Profy caught the ball on the 24 and ran to the 24. On the first play, Joe Myernich gained 9 yards and Lelinski chalked up a first down on the 19. On one play, Spadaccini went the remaining distance to score. Craig's extra point try was wide of its mark.

The alert St. Ann's secondary did excellent work in intercepting six Rockne passes with both Jack Lane and Jim Craig intercepting a pair and Gene Mount and Tom Profy the others. Both Mount and Craig had but one runner between them and the goal-line when downed.

St. Ann's will play the Langhorne Aces at Pennel next Sunday and return home on October 22 to play the strong Tacony Boys Club.

PERRONE'S SINGLE WINS FOR 2ND WARD

"Mike" Perrone's single with two out in the final inning gave Second Ward A. C. a 6-5 win over Franklin A. C. yesterday afternoon on Memorial field in the third and deciding game of the final playoff series of the Bristol Softball League. The Warders retained the championship they won in 1949. The score was deadlocked at 5-5.

when Second Ward took its last lick at the plate. Tom Sagolla sliced a double along the left field foul line. Gene Mount was given an intentional pass. The strategy seemed to work as Stansky hit to Cappello and the result was a twin-killing, the pitcher to Bert Barbeta to Fred Clotti. "Lou" Pezzullo was sent in as a courtesy runner for Stansky. On a delayed steal, Pezzullo went to second where he scored on Perrone's line single to center.
